About Me

My name is Saturday Richard

I specialize in Front-end development and progressive web development to give you a better and stress-free user experience.

But possession of all these skills without human relation is like having nothing at all because a business or an organization can never stand without this in place.

Therefore, these are my traits that support human relations:

1. I am reliable.
2. I am result oriented.
3. I am a good learner
4. I love taking part in teamwork.
5. I am dedicated.
6. I am jovial(friendly).

In addition, expect these from me for every project:

➡ Positive vibes.

➡ An interval update on your project progression every two hours.

➡ Your website will be both desktop and mobile compatible(responsive).

➡ Meeting up with your desired expectations(pixel-perfect).

➡ Delivery at set deadline.

➡ Presentation of more better user interface in the long run(optional).

Nevertheless, it will be a great pleasure exhibiting all these attributes in your project as I look forward to working with you, for your satisfaction is my topmost priority.
